Our advice to parents:

Like you, I am a parent and I am aware of the difficulty of seeing your child having low marks or struggling in school.

You know your child better and you know his weaknesses in school. Do not wait for the first report card to take action.

Start the new school year on a good note. A new year gives students a fresh start. This is why it is important to grasp this Momentum so that the child does not fall into his old and bad habits.

The personalized follow-up we offer targets all school subjects and also the elements necessary for success: organization, self-confidence, perseverance and motivation.

Looking forward to guiding your child to success,

Zeina Mouzannar
